Rafael focuses his practice on corporate law, mergers and acquisitions, venture capital, and private equity.

Being a native Spanish speaker with a bicultural background, Rafael can better address his client's needs on complex cross-border and domestic corporate transactions. Prior to joining the firm, Rafael gained experience raising capital through debt and equity financing documents, preparing commercial agreements, structuring corporate entities, and representing sellers and buyers in connection with mergers or acquisitions.

Before attending law school, Rafael served as an assistant to both a Florida Representative and a Florida Senator. His experience in the Florida legislature allowed him to serve constituents' specific needs by understanding strategic policy solutions.
